चाणक्य...The Strategist

Lecture Series

To establish purposeful interaction between industry and institution, lecture series “Chanakya” has been initiated. Under this banner Industry Institute Interface Cell (IIIC) and Entrepreneurship Development Cell has organized a fruitful lecture of recipient of Digital Women Awards 2018 Ms Nistha Tripathi on December 21, 2018. An entrepreneur, educator and author of bestseller book “No Shortcuts” and “Seven Conversation” Ms Nistha Tripathi said that Internships are great tools to get chances as a job applicant and help in making students a better potential employee. She discussed about the challenges an individual has to face while beginning with a new Startup. Nistha Tripathi's book, “No Shortcuts” explores the process and struggle of successful Indian startups by featuring interviews of the founders. Her education consulting venture, “Scholar Strategy” prides itself in guiding young professionals into top universities across the world including Harvard and MIT. She highlighted that by interacting with professionals one can gain new connections and learn how to communicate in a professional environment.

संवाद

A lecture series “संवाद” was inaugurated by Industry Institution Interface Cell (IIIC) on October 6, 2018. The purpose of this series is to raise awareness of the requirements of companies and the individual's responsibilities towards it. In the inaugural lecture of “संवाद”, CEO of Soft Getix, Mr. Binod Kumar explained in detail various techniques such as Block Chain Development (BCD), Progressive Web Development (PWD) and Internet of Things (IOT). He termed the commercial awareness as staying up-to-date on daily happenings and developments in the business and with dynamic and constantly changing commercial world. One of the most effective ways to build commercial awareness is to get some work experience by which students can gain real-world job experience, boost their resume and create the path to a successful career. Commercial awareness is one of the most important key features for employability.

“उर्जिता”- Self Defense Training Program

In India, the cases of gender-vehemence are increasing and many of which remain unreported or unregistered. In this scenario, it is very important for women to learn self-defence for their own as well as other's safety and survival. Studies indicate that criminals trap soft targets that are unaware of their surroundings. Hence, it is time to beware of everything because criminals never wait for any right time. Women should be prepared to protect themselves from such attacks. They can learn self-defence techniques to become self confident in any situation. With this vision of girl safety, Women Grievance and Redressal Cell in association with NSS and 'Mission Sahasi' conducted a seven days self defense training program “उर्जिता” From October 22-29, 2018 in the campus. The program was inaugurated by Ms. Renu Agrawal, Incharge, We Care For You. Ms. Agrawal informed girls about the consequences of unwanted calls and messages and how to deal with them. Ms. Arundhati singh Chandel from “Mission Sahasi” also addressed to the college girls on this occasion. The trained girls have demonstrated at Chiman Bagh Ground, in the gracious presence of Grand Master Shifuji Shourya Bhardwaj, along with 5000 girls from different Schools and Higher Education Institutes.
